

You're not looking for a run-of-the-mill job, but a place where you can actively advise companies on their digital transformation and help shape business processes. You want to be part of a team that's technically strong and close-knit.

This is us: a young, successful, dynamic and independent company specialising in professional IT solutions in the fields of ERP, CRM and MIS. With a team of around 20 staff, we support over 80 clients. We rely on standard products ranging from Microsoft Dynamics to Business Central, as well as bespoke software development. We guide our clients through their digital transformation whilst optimising their business processes. We are looking for talented individuals as well as experienced staff who would like to grow with us. Translated with DeepL.com (free version)

With us, you'll find an employer that offers flexible and progressive ways of working. Please send your application documents in PDF format to personal@aventit.com. We look forward to getting to know you.

We are looking for a member of our team to start immediately or by arrangement

Business Consultant for Microsoft Dynamics 365

Key responsibilities

- Analysis, design and definition of processes in Dynamics 365
- Advising our clients on general ledger, subsidiary ledgers and periodic obligations (VAT, annual accounts, payroll reporting, etc.)
- Development of solution concepts in close collaboration with external and internal stakeholders
- Delivery of workshops, training sessions and presentations
- Support for new and existing projects
- Documentation of concepts and processes
- Provision of support for complex technical issues

What we offer

- The opportunity to work independently within a motivated and close-knit team
- Modern workplace facilities, flexible working hours and the freedom to choose where you work
- Attractive terms of employment
- A friendly working atmosphere with varied and responsible tasks
- A central location (we are a 2-minute walk from Altstetten station)

What we expect

- An understanding of business processes and technical interrelationships
- A structured and interconnected approach to thinking and working
- You are resilient and able to stay focused even in stressful situations
- You are open-minded, independent and enjoy being part of a team that improves together
- Completed further training in finance and accounting or a comparable field
- Professional experience in finance and with ERP processes. Knowledge of Dynamics NAV or Business Central is an advantage
